

WHAT'S HAPPENING...

NEW COLLEGE AND SCHOOLS

The Board of Trustees at Husson University approved a new “College of Business” and four new “Schools” within the College. According to Dean Ronald Nykiel, Dean of the College of Business: “this action by the Board provides for an overall appropriate structure for our growing academic offerings an a great framework for future expansion.”

The College of Business, which is Maine’s Largest College of Business with nearly 1400 students, consists of four schools and offers over 200 courses in Bangor, Portland, Presque Isle and this fall in York County. Nykiel added: “the new structure allows for each school to grow in its own respective academic area as well as provides greater opportunities for development, and corporate and community relations.”

Under the new College, there are four Schools, which include: the School of Accounting, the School of Business and Management, the School of Hospitality, Sport and Tourism Management, and the School of Legal Studies.

Husson has been offering business education for over 100 years and just recently launched a new MBA degree, with concentrations in Corporate Management, Health Care Management, Hospitality Management, and Non-Profit Management.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND MANAGEMENT

Congratulations are in order for Jesse Baker's BA 414 Business Policy students. The students are using an innovative online approach to the course. They have thus far ranked in the top 100 Global performers for the GLO-BUS program in two different weeks. GLO-BUS allows students to simulate the management of a digital camera company in head-to-head competition against other classmates companies. The companies produce entry level and upscale cameras in a Taiwan facility and ship the cameras to all over the world.

Paul Morrow received news regarding the acceptance of his article "Cyberlaw: The Unconscionability/ Unenforceability of Contracts on the Internet" by the University of Pittsburg Law School's Journal of Science, Technology, and Public Policy for spring 2011.

Tom Hutchison co-authored The Music Business and Recording Industry in Nov. 2010. The book was recently named book of the month by Routledge, Taylor and Francis Group publishing.

SCHOOL OF HOSPITALITY, SPORT AND TOURISM MANAGEMENT

Tom Collins joined the College of Business in the fall and is the Program Manager for the Sport Management program. Tom joins us from North Carolina where he held positions including: Director of Athletics, Dean of Students, Assistant Football coach, Sport Information Director, and Assistant Commissioner to the Big South Conference. Tom has a Bachelor's degree in Social Studies from Campbell University and a Master's degree in Athletics Administration from East Carolina University. He is currently working on completion of an Ed.D. in Higher Education Administration.

The Richard Dyke Center for Family Business is currently being directed by Lee Speronis. He is supervising the experiential learning for students to participate in the day-to-day operation of the Center. Holly Adams and Brandon Kenney are two students handling event coordinating for groups from Husson and the outside community.

SCHOOL OF LEGAL STUDIES

John Michaud has completed a review for the publisher Jones and Bartlett of the book Criminal Procedure Law: Police Issues and the Supreme Court. He has also completed a review for Pearson publishing of the text Criminal Justice: A Brief Introduction over the Spring Break.

Two students, Ben Murtiff and Kyle McDonald, are currently attending the Maine Criminal Justice Academy's Basic Law Enforcement Training program as tuition cadets. Ben has accepted a position with Augusta Police Department.

Mock Oral Boards are scheduled for April 5, 2011 to assist other students preparing for jobs and the Academy.

Cornel Plebani has authored new Web quizzes for Cengage publishing's text Criminal Procedure (8th ed.). He has also authored learning activities for Pearson publishing's Criminal Justice Interactive on-line text. Additionally, over Spring Break he completed a text reviews of Criminal Procedure: Constitution and Society (6th ed.) for Pearson publishing and Serial Murderers and Their Victims (4th ed.) for Wadsworth publishing.
